Mary supports public education from preschool to college-to the emeritus programs for seniors- "Education is a basic right and must be affordable and accessible for ALL at every age. Especially now that technology is changing our industries, manufacturing and workforce, we must become resilient learners and that ability begins at birth! We must become a country of life-long learners in order to adapt to the fast pace changes and challenges that are unfolding before us. We must put children and families first and foremost at the center of our decision making."

Join Mary in a presentation and discussion on the importance of protecting our progressive, democratic values through Early Childhood Education and how together we as a community can better support young families.

Melahat Rafiei
Political Consultant & Democratic Activist

Melahat believes in family, community and nation. She believes in community involvement, education and hard work as the way to a good life. She believes that the best for our people means the best for everyone.

She believes these things because she has, and is, living the American Dream we all talk about. She has gone from a frightened little girl, a political refugee from Tehran, to successful businesswoman, parent, mentor, community leader – because her parents and her adopted country gave her a foundation and real opportunity to excel.

From a first time volunteer, she learned, worked and rose to positions with more and more responsibility. After the campaign ended, Melahat moved on and up, bringing her considerable negotiating and leadership skills to the job of Executive Director the Democratic Party of Orange County in 2007.

From that position, Melahat was able to take the ground that was being prepared and plant the seeds that grew into a beautiful blue "harvest" in the 2018 midterms. She oversaw the creation of things as diverse as a stable fund-raising base to organized voter registration drives to recruiting an army of passionate activists, who joined with experienced organizers to do the essential work of voter contact and education.

She also agreed to take a seat on the Board of Planned Parenthood of Orange and San Bernardino Counties, consulting with the National Iranian-American Council and other community-based projects.

Melahat has also built a very successful full service political consulting firm, Progressive Solutions Consulting. She has recently expanded to include a division for public advocacy.

Her skills and work ethic have seen her win many awards, including recognition by the California State Assembly and the US House of Representatives, The John F. Kennedy, Jr. Award from the California Democratic Party for service to the Democratic Party, Orange County Young Democrats Mentor of the Year, and the Democratic Foundation of Orange County's Howard Adler Award for Excellence in the Art and Science of Politics.
